IS PRESS FREEDOM ABUSED?

There is a lot of bunk peddled around the country about freedom of the press and behind the slogan certain newspapers practice all kinds of reprehensible writing.

Freedom of the press is a license for an editor, for example, to keep a political, moral and individual, insinuating, and corrupting at their, when called upon to substantiate the charges, all based on the excuse that the sources of the information are confidential.

Does the freedom of the press permit a columnist to peddle all types of rumors regardless of their origin, and then, when called to account, say the information was based upon a confidential talk with an official?

Responsible newspaper writers and that behind such a screen a writer can make almost any charge without ever being called upon to account for such slanderous allegations.

There is some sentiment even among writers themselves for a plan to eliminate irresponsible journalists whose only excuse for writing is that they are willing to say anything, upon any and no authority, because they can fall back upon a "persecution" complaint if they are called to book.

PATRIOTISM

PATRIOTISM, as defined by Webster is "the love and devotion of a person for his country." This is a simple definition but we have seen patriotism shown in many different ways. To prove this we reproduce below a letter exactly as it was written to the Hancock County Selective Service Board by a young man in Hancock County who wants to join the Armed Forces of his country and do his part in this struggle for freedom.

Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Sirs:

I am writing just to explain myself. I am nineteen years of age and a healthy one. I am six feet 2 inches tall and my weight is 190 pounds. I have tried to enlist to or three times and just missed it.

I do not have a soul dependent and would like to be drafted because I am unemployed and cannot find work pending to this my life is being wasted. I can see it like this: what's the use of just hanging around doing nothing while I could be serving my country as well as helping myself.

All through life I have had nothing but a hard time, so if I was sent over seas one more would not hurt.

I had to quit school when I was sixteen years old to work and that accounts for my lack of education, sir, if there is a way of getting me in the army air forces, or regular army, the sooner, the better.

Thanking you and remaining Sincerely yours

NOTE: The Selectee was accommodated and placed in Class 1-A.

Things are changing in some parts of the country for better and worse... depends on how you look at things... for example, in Waveland... Garfield is still the boy... kinda think that's all right... the UN forces in Korea are winning... that's all to the good... tension in Berlin... that's not so good... as though there hasn't been tension for years... since 1945 in fact... last time I met a Russian we traded wrist watches, C Rations and cigarettes... 1945 that was... a few kilometers out of Berlin... stalled on our way by a convoy of Russian mobile units... forgotten just how long we waited for them to pass... several hours anyway... anyhow there was a lot of rolling stock... know where they were made... Detroit... Michigan, that is. Paying taxes and buying war bonds out of your cheek... at least you're going to sleep in a warm bed at night... not in three to six inches of water... cold water... with rain in your face... thankful you have a face left for the rain to fall on... "Oh, Lord, just let me make it through this brawl and I'll never sin again, I'll do this, I'll do that"... Ha How quickly we forget when we were back where things were a bit quieter... don't sniff at that... how much have you forgotten? The guy that said war is hell didn't say why... There are so many reasons... a kid on some street in France begging food... selling things for food... a town that is visible from city limit to city limit from the hood of a jeep... desolation... rain... mud... other things you dare not put in print... wouldn't believe them anyway... next of kin has been notified... Those are the things that our boy "Joe" wants... if we have to do it again... I want to stand on the jeep's hood and look clear across Moscow... this time no wrist watches... no C rations... no cigarettes... lead.

Congressional Sidelights

CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLMER

TAXES

Early in the year the House passed a new tax bill. This was a tax reduction bill. Under its provisions greater personal exemptions were granted and relief was given from many of the war-time excess taxes including motor vehicle and other entertainment taxes, as well as taxes on cosmetics, etc. Before the Senate acted on this bill the Korean War broke out and that body apparently shelved the House tax bill, and imposed additional taxes as well as reinstating the out-of-pocket excess taxes. However, the Senate bill did not go far enough in the opening of most members of the Congress. It did not provide for war-time excess profits taxes. It is generally agreed, we think by all thinking people that in time of war excess profits taxes should be imposed to the fullest extent. No person or person should be permitted to grow rich out of the wartime economy. We are certainly in accord with the thought that a Congress which authorizes the drafting of its boys to risk their all upon the altar of their country should also see to it that it does not grow rich as a result of their sacrifice.

However, the President and the tax experts claimed that they were unable to properly draft an appropriate excess profits tax for enactment at this session. The House of Representatives was adamant and by an almost unanimous vote passed a resolution a few weeks ago providing its desire to see such a tax enacted before the adjournment of Congress.

In this dilemma the Administration again prevailed, a compromise was worked out under which it was agreed that the Congress would enact such a tax when it came back this year or in January of the new session next year. That this bill would be retroactive so as to recapture the profits made out of the Korean conflict. We predict that that will happen.

ANTI-COMMUNIST LEGISLATION

The Congress, representing the people of the United States, is usually more responsive to public opinion than the President and his official and other advisors. This was again demonstrated during the past week when both the Senate and the House by overwhelming votes passed the Anti-Subversive Bill.

The purpose, briefly, of this legislation is to protect the national security against the Un-American activities and the sabotage of the national security and our Democratic Institutions by Communist and other subversive persons. President Truman vetoed the bill and sent a lengthy, augmentative message to Capitol Hill giving his reasons therefor. Briefly his argument was (a) there is sufficient legislation now on the statute books to deal with this subject, (b) the enactment of his legislation was dangerous to our Democratic institutions and would therefore react favorably to the Communists rather than against them.

We agree that we do have existing laws which could cope with the situation in the absence of an all-out war if properly enforced. But the trouble is that the Administration for the past several years has coddled and appeased these left-wing groups rather than enforced the existing statutes. For instance, we point out again that three times during the war we brought to the floor of the House, from the Rules Committee, a bill to deport the notorious Communist Labor leader of the West Coast, Harry Bridges, who was then sabotaging our war efforts in the Pacific by paralyzing strikes against our shipping on the West Coast. But each time the Administration and the labor leaders were strong enough to kill the

MOTORIST URGED TO RENEW THEIR DRIVERS' LICENSES; $2.00 FOR TWO YEARS

Drivers license officials of the Highway Patrol today urged all drivers to check the expiration date of their drivers license and if they have expired at once renew their license. City Clerk at Patrol Headquarters, 2550 North State Street, Jackson.

If you send your renewal by mail to Patrol Headquarters, be sure and enclose money order for $2.00 and give your correct mailing address, says Miss Lena Beck, Director of the Drivers License Bureau. A great number of people are only sending in $1.00. The cost of the license now is $2.00 for two years. When you send only $1.00 it causes a lot of work in the Department and delays people getting their license. So please send in $2.00 to your nearest Sheriff's Office or City Clerk and have that license renewed at once.

States Chief L. C. Hicks of the Highway Patrol, "All Patrolmen are checking cars on every highway every day. The license costs you $2.00 for two years. If you don't have the maximum fine is $5.00 plus court costs. We cannot wait for an expired license to drive your license."

Col. T. B. Hudson, Commissioner of Public Safety, further states, "We are not interested in your license, but if it has expired we have no alternative but to give a ticket. To you who have never had a license we have provided 5 additional Examiners. Check with your Sheriff to see when the Examiner will be in your city. If you have had a license check the expiration date now and if it has expired go to your Sheriff or City Clerk and get it renewed immediately."

"We hope all drivers will cooperate and not make it necessary for us to give tickets for no drivers license."

Remember, be sure to renew your address when mailing in license for renewal.

SEEK EXTENSION OF RAIL SERVICE

Gulfport, Miss. Two Harrison County legislators were designated at a meeting here last week to study what steps might be taken to continue passenger train service between Jackson and the Mississippi Coast.

The Illinois Central has announced that its two passenger trains per day on this 160-mile link will be discontinued Oct. 1.

Meeting in executive session, following a mass assembly here, members and Chambers of Commerce officials named State Sen. R. B. Meadows, Jr. and Rep. Reece O. Holcomb to study the Gulfport to study what steps might be taken, possibly in the form of a hearing attended by the railroad, state public service commission, and other Gulf and Ship Island railroad communities.

The general assembly featured the remarks of Public Service Commissioner C. M. Morgan, who expressed his desire to see the Jackson-New Orleans line. Morgan said the railroad had made public announcements regarding the discontinuance of passenger service "without even notifying the commission."

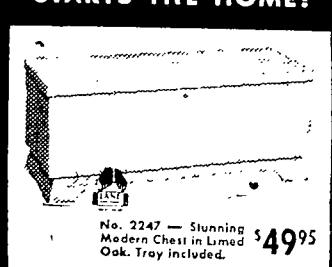

The commissioner said he asked the railroad for a three-month extension of the service to further test the Illinois Central's claim that it is operating the Jackson-Gulfport run at a loss of $1.71 per train mile.

Mayor Milton T. Evans of Gulfport contended that Mississippi is the "second state" of the Illinois Central system in trackage and business outlay.

bill in the Senate. The new bill enacted by the Congress over the Presidential veto would mandatorily take care of such situations rather than leave them to the discretion of governmental officials who too often are subservient to this left-wing philosophy. In the House there were outbursts of derision against some of the President's arguments during the reading of the President's message and cries of "vote," "vote," "vote." Out of 435 potential votes in the House the Administration was able to muster only 40 votes to sustain the Presidential veto. There was only one vote from the South against according the President.

Mayor's Proclamation

TO THE CITIZENS OF BAY ST. LOUIS

Sept. 27, 1950

GREETINGS

WHEREAS these are days when Americanism is facing its greatest test and

WHEREAS Democracy, freedom, the dignity of the individual and the ideals we hold dear are at stake, and

WHEREAS today we are fighting in Korea, that is a job for the soldier and

WHEREAS there is another kind of fight, too, a war of words, a battle for men's minds. This is the war behind the war and in which every American can be a front-line soldier. And

WHEREAS the Crusade for Freedom is to counter the Communist Big Lie by demonstrating in dramatic fashion the BIG TRUTH that our goal is freedom and peace for all. And

WHEREAS as a symbol of this great Crusade for Freedom there has been cast in England a 10-ton Freedom Bell that will be installed in Berlin and dedicated on United Nations Day, October 24, at 1.

WHEREAS there will be enshrined for all time in the Freedom Bell the signatures of American citizens dedicated to the cause of Liberty. And

WHEREAS that is the purpose of the Crusade for Freedom, to show that Americans are united for Freedom, and

WHEREAS Governor Fielding L. Wright has set aside the first week in October, October 1-7, 1950 as Crusade for Freedom Week in Mississippi.

THEREFORE as Mayor of Bay St. Louis, I do hereby urge every citizen to have an individual and personal part in this Crusade for Freedom by signing one of the Freedom Scrolls—available locally during the week of October 1-7 and help make our community as near one hundred per cent as possible.

Respectfully,

(Signed) WARREN CARVER, Mayor

the SPORTSMAN'S TENT

By STANLEY FIFE

PORTRAIT OF A SPORTSMAN

Highway 49, at a stream just outside of Gulfport's north side, the limits of an unlikely area to be picked or pointed to with pride. In the midst of all this rubble you would hardly expect to find a place of interest to a child of ten, indeed you would not even allow them in the ponds and creeks that fringe this one of the state's main arteries.

A sportsman on his prowl for the feel of the wilds would not think it dignity to peek inside. One of these clubs for contact with old life.

Ordinarily, that is, he would not turn to a bar to satisfy his craving for the sight of game and all the charm that it holds. But there is a place on Highway 49 that is not ordinary, it is not a drive and it is not a hotel to satisfy even the most individual nature lover and sportsman. There is a place right outside the gates of Gulfport on the left called "Bob's Gun Shop." But that is a museum in the true sense of the word, dedicated unselfishly to the appreciation of wildlife and work of art in guns and wood.

The Longhorn Bar is an establishment where anyone could spend hours just looking. Woods carved portland, the full meaning behind the collector's that Bob Dyer has spent years gathering at great expense.

Mr. Dyer devotes each Fall to hunting trips north to Canada or west as far as Arizona, New Mexico or the Rockies. On one such trip he bagged and had mounted the greatest and most terrific of all our North American game, the Kodak Bear, which now rests peacefully yet all too watchfully above his hide covered bar. Two moose heads, one shot near Alberta, Canada, adorn the walls of his green adorned with the black bear perfectly preserved ed in a startling mood of defiance, deer, caribou and the big horn ram in perfect specimen poise from the immaculately kept boards. A tanned crocodile hide, measuring 21 feet, the largest on display anywhere, and a leopard skin are displayed in all their natural beauty.

And one of the most diverse of all our game, the majestic Rocky Mountain Goat, one of the prizes of the collection, seems to step from the fall above a booth for your inspection.

Besides these natural specimen of game, Mr. Dyer has collected hundreds of guns from all over the world, including the famous Winchester 74, the Longboms, and war souvenirs from battles of our time and all wars since 1812. There is a 60 calibre Kentucky Rifle dating back to that War of 1812 along with pistols and cutlasses from the time of the buccaniers. Unique knives and revolvers displayed at no charge what so ever for your inspection and pleasure.

But loads of school children have come in classes to see this collection of natural history and fascinating display of weapons. Mr. Dyer's natural love for the woods and his adventurous nature are evident in each of these perfectly mounted big game.

To truly appreciate this historical land mark it must be seen (you don't have to buy a thing) and if a place is respectable enough for our school children, you need not be afraid of being knocked down by some drunk for there are none. Bob Dyer has thousands of dollars and years of experience tied up in these specimens of say nothing of the priceless pleasure offered by these wild beasts in their natural finish. He cannot risk it all for the sale of "ips one more drink, buddy

"THE ADMIRAL WAS A LADY" AT THE STAR THEATRE, THURS. AND FRI., OCT. 5-6

Edmond O'Brien & Wanda Hendrix Co-Star in This Laugh-Packed Farce

The promise that the best things in life are free is the basis on which Edmond O'Brien and his ex-combar-dier group build up a hilarious structure of screen comedy in "The Admiral Was A Lady," the film due next Thursday and Friday, October 5-6 at the Star Theatre through United Artists release.
Lovely Wanda Hendrix co-stars with O'Brien in the picture, which also features Rudy Valley, Steve Brodie, Dick Lederman, Johnny Sands and Hilary Brooke. O'Brien has not often played comedy in films, but he demonstrates in this delightful film that he has a flair for chuckling scenes that should make him much in demand whenever gaiety is wanted on the screen.

The story was written by Johnny O'Brien and Sidney Salkow, and comments the hectic experiences of the boat ex-GIs as they try to keep an eye on Wanda Hendrix from leaving town in order to marry a fabulous character named Henry. That she falls in love with one of the fighter group is only part of the uproarious surprise denouement. Albert S. Rogell produced and directed the film with Edward Lewis as co-producer.

In "The Admiral Was A Lady" Rogell has found the perfect subject for his sense of humor and showmanship, as previously evidenced in Damon Run-yon's "Butch Minds the Baby" and "Tight Shoes." No previous production has stirred his enthusiasm and imagination more than this tongue-in-cheek commentary on the 52-20 club.

The world of literature is crammed with wonderful ideas but none of them will jump into your brain unless you hunt them up.

Mississippi Farm Bureau Week will be celebrated in Mississippi, October 1 through October 7, with a pledge of 50,000 new members from a concentrated statewide campaign.

Boswell Stevens, of Macon, President of the Farm Bureau, announced that every effort will be made to attain the high membership goal set by resolution of the board of directors. The drive will be preceded by seventeen district meetings, and three other districts will set their meetings at a later date. In addition to these meetings each County Farm Bureau will schedule planning meetings prior to the kick-off meetings.

A Bumper Crop of Telephones on Mississippi Farms

Rural telephone service is growing as never before in Mississippi, bringing town and country closer together, to the business and social advantage of both.

More than 7,000 new rural telephones, involving expenditures of approximately $1,350,- 000, have been installed in Mississippi so far this year. In the last 4 1/2 years, lines have been built to reach approximately 500 rural communities which had very little or no telephone service before. Mississippi now has 4 times as many Southern Bell rural telephones as there were at the beginning of 1946, and we are rapidly extending telephone service to more and more people in the rural areas.

These new rural telephones extend trading areas and promote progress and prosperity for farmers and townspeople, too. A farmer with a telephone is within easy reach of the supplies and services sold in town, and can keep in touch with the markets for his produce.

Yes, the rapid expansion of rural telephone service means a lot to all of Mississippi. The more we extend service into the rural areas the more valuable telephone service becomes to all.

Annual State Fair Scheduled in Jackson, Miss., For Week of October 9 thru 17

Jackson—Plans for the 1950 Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Exposition, better known to Mississippians as the annual State Fair, were announced today by J. M. Dean, Secretary-Manager.

Dates for the annual Exposition have been set for Monday, October 9 thru Saturday, October 17, at the State Fairgrounds in Jackson.

Monday, opening day, will see all exhibits open and a parade by gay parade units with special participation by the fair's exhibitors.

Tuesday, a Veterans' and Veterans Service Organization Day.

Wednesday, the State, County and Municipal Government and Civic Organization Day.

Thursday, the day for the Fairgrounds Exhibits formerly housed in this building will be found this year in the Agriculture Building, Mr. Dean said.

Also, a temporary hog barn has been built back of the new Livestock building to provide better facilities, he added.

Rules and regulations concerning entries for exhibits and awards, as well as other general information, are contained in the Fair catalog. Prospective exhibitors wishing a copy of the catalog and entry blanks should write the Executive Secretary.

Entries in the various department contests must be received at the office of the secretary on the Fairgrounds not later than October 1.

United Gas will again add 50 percent in premiums to all winners in the junior classes, it was announced.

Governor Fielding L. Wright, in a statement in the catalog said: "Fairs and Livestock Shows are important institutions in Mississippi, and I wish to express my personal interest and pride in the progress made in recent years."

"Believing you will want to acquaint yourself with the latest developments in agriculture and industry, I urge you to attend the 1950 State Fair."

Mayor Allen C. Thompson of Jackson said: "The Mississippi State Fair is your fair, and we sincerely urge you to attend it. There is much for you to gain from the many interesting, educational, and entertaining features which have been arranged for your instruction and enjoyment."

"As mayor of Jackson, I invite you to spend some time in your Capital City while attending your State Fair."

"Two big entertainment events have been scheduled for this year's State Fair. The Barnes-Carruthers musical extravaganza 'State Fair Revue of 1950' will be presented at the grandstand nightly."

The Royal American Shows, billed as the "world's largest midway" will present a galaxy of midway attractions and will feature this year "Wee Bonnie Baker," the famous "Oh, Johnny Girl."

Miss Baker appears with her original cast of Broadway and Hollywood stars and 16 beautiful dancing girls.

On Sunday the Quads and their guests enjoyed a picnic at the Quad home, which is located on Beach Blvd. near Sears Avenue. Guests at this outing were Mrs. Corinne Gonzales, Mr. Ed Gonzales, Gwendolyn Gonzales, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Daffner and children. A wonderful time was had by all.

Church services will again be conducted at 728 Beach Boulevard Friday night with Rev. Robert Salley present. In charge of this meeting will be Brother O. Scott and it is promised that plans for the new church will be announced at that time. It is urgent that all those who are interested in building a church be present.

A square dance held on September 22 in the Waveland School and sponsored by the Mothers' Club for their own benefit was a great success.

Mrs. Elizabeth Courrage of Lakeshore spent Monday with Mrs. Ott Brockman, the former Betty Courrage.

The Bay-Waveland Hancock County Home Demonstration Club met last week at the home of Mrs. Gerald Kennedy, Waveland. The project discussed at this meeting was the remaking of lamp shades. Officers in this organization are Mrs. Johann Craft, president; Mrs. E. Yates, vice-president; Mrs. T. P. Clapp, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting of this group will be held on the third Friday in October at the home of Mrs. T. P. Clapp in Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Karl Craft of Craft's Anchorage has heard from her husband, Captain Karl Craft of the Amee Lykes, and he plans to join her at their Waveland home about the fifth of October. Captain Craft has been in the dangerous waters in and around Korea these last months.

Mrs. Sidney Bourgeois, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion has announced that the Gift Shop Fund, the Rehabilitation Fund for World War veterans has grown from 108 to 218 gifts which will be distributed to disabled veterans on Christmas. Mrs. Bourgeois requests that if you have a gift or a donation that you would like to make to this very worthy cause you may do so by getting in touch with her or by leaving your gift at the Dickson Drug Store in Bay St. Louis. The Ladies Auxiliary recently gave a square dance in the Civic Hall in Lakeshore which was very successful. Your gift will be greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bourgeois and daughter, Aggie, Mrs. Walter Turcotte and Mrs. Ernest Bourgeois motored to Perkinston on Sunday and brought young Walter Turcotte back to Perkinston Junior College after spending the week end with his parents.

Miss Shirley Turcotte also spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte on Bordages Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Ladner spent the week end in their home on Market Street.

Little Lynne and Glen Rose are coming off the sick list. Better days ahead for you, little folks!

When the Brockman-Hall family get together it's a "full house". Over the week end Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman had open house with Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Hall and daughter, Lynne, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ott Brockman as guests.

And soon there will be another member of this family. The stork is just around the corner for the Ott Brockmans!

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Favre, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tucker spent the week end in New Orleans with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Giordano.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Angelle spent the week end in their home on Tide Street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tucker spent Tuesday in New Orleans on pleasure and business.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahner spent the week end on Market Street.

REMEMBER WHEN

... it was either too hot or too cold

Many's the tea-kettle of hot water you toted from the kitchen to the tub. Remember? It's an almost forgotten ritual nowadays, for nearly every modern home in the Gulf South enjoys the convenience and economy of an automatic gas water heater. Natural gas serves your whole family—helps with all the big jobs in the home at a cost of only a few cents a day.

An automatic GAS water heater is an essential factor in modern living . . . keeps a plentiful supply of hot water always on hand to make your household tasks easier, more enjoyable. See the new gas water heaters today wherever gas appliances are sold.

A large part of the cost of our public school system is defrayed through taxes paid by the companies in the oil and natural gas industry. They are good friends of our area. Through their payrolls and local purchases of equipment and supplies, they place extra millions of dollars in circulation. That's the way the American system of free enterprise works. The successful operation of a business benefits everyone—employees, investors and public alike.

RESERVISTS ORDERED FOR MILITARY DUTY SUBJECT TO MILITARY REGULATIONS

Colonel Stuart C. McDonald, chief of the Mississippi Military District, announced today that less than one and one-half percent of Army reservists called to active duty had failed to report as instructed.

The Colonel said, "I am proud of the fact that we have such a low percentage, but I hope to see it drop lower yet. When a reservist fails to report it not only means administrative trouble for us, but the individual is subject to military discipline."

All reservists who receive orders to report for active duty are subject to military law from the time he is required to report as stated in the orders.
Any who fail to comply with the active duty orders are reported absent without leave in same manner as regular army personnel. They are subject to be apprehended and dealt with accordingly.

For security reasons the number of men called to active duty from Missis-

The Navy has announced that the USS New Jersey is being taken out of of "mothballs" for reconditioning. The New Jersey, sister ship to the Missouri, is rated at a displacement of 45,000 tons. The Iowa and the Wisconsin of the same class still are in mothballs.

Trifles & Treasures

by
PEGGY FOOTE

I am the type of person who has never gotten by with anything in my life.
If you are the same then you can sympathize with me and we can lament on each other's shoulder. There really isn't too much you can do about it but try to take it. I remember during the war years, when domestic help was a visionary hope and we were all at "home" again while our respective husbands were at war, a little incident which proves my point. Ours was a large family home and there were innumerable duties to be performed besides an invalid mother who required twenty-four hour attention. It seemed to me, that for a time, I took on more than was absolutely necessary, but I never could shirk or shift a chore. When I first arrived home after leaving my husband at an air field for training to go overseas, the one girl employed in the home took her chance and left. But not before I found her on several occasions smoking and swapping stories with one of my sisters (the "tired" type) in the back bedroom.
She would serve coffee to this sister in bed simply because the sister told her she was accustomed to it. Yet, one morning when I said, "is there any coffee made, Angie?" She looked at me with indignance and answered sarcastically, "I ain't bringing you no coffee." I hadn't asked her to—in fact for days I had literally been waiting on her.

Then one day when this tired sister actually picked up a mop and was making an attempt to clean the upstairs hall my father came along and took the mop from her hand and said, "I don't want to see you doing that. That's too big a job." So-o-o the job fell to me and morning after morning I mopped, stopped to let my father walk past—and mopped again. See what I mean? I have long since learned that whatever you are willing to do you will certainly be allowed to do—and how!
Then there was the incident of the pearls! One day my sisters and my mother were called into my father's den. I had not been invited but I trailed along to see what surprise awaited them. One by one my father presented them with a glistening strand of pearls from Europe—but there just weren't any for me! I think I was more embarrassed than hurt, but the incident left a scar which never healed—not even when my mother (bless her heart) gave me her's to keep. I still have them—I've never worn them. They will be passed on to my nephew's lovely little daughter as soon as she is old enough to take care of them.

Down in Clermont Harbor there are movies nearly every Sunday night.
These movies are free to the public and are shown on the porch of the cottage of Jules Schroth of N. O. and Clermont Harbor. Movies and minutes snapshots are Mr. Schroth's hobby and he has done a great service to the community by keeping the younger people entertained. He has shown movies numerous times, completely at his own expense for benefits.

Mr. Schroth is owner of Cosmo Shoe Repair Co., in N. O. which was established in 1900. He is also an inventor and listed amongst his accomplishments are: talking auto horn, 1932 (but the cost of manufacture was too great so he did not apply for a patent.) Walking, talking dummy—1925.

A bomb-dispersing parachute (which was given to the US Government and used in the last war).
Shoe sterilizing machine—1939.
Sanitary foot booths—1939.
Shoe shank sander—1939.
Shoe shank polisher—1939. (all these devices are in use in shoe repair shops and have been endorsed by the US Public Health.)

Mr. Schroth is credited with many other inventions and was given national publicity when they were introduced.
I think the most interesting in the building of the first electrical prom-ograph ever used to cue motion pictures —with music and effects. This was introduced two years before the Western Electric came forth with sound and talking recorded to synchronize with film.

There are foot massager, Shoe steri-lizer, and numerous others. The latest of Mr. Schroth's hobbies is the camera which he carries everywhere. Unobtrusively he snaps candid shots at dinners, buffets, etc., and in one minute he develops the picture hands it to the surprised subject.

Something different to serve at your next coffee party.
First melt 8 oz. of chocolate over hot water. Add 1 cup raisins, cut, or 1 cup finely chopped walnuts. Spread on salted crackers. This amount will spread

Do you live in a house with unsightly transoms? Get the man of the house to remove the glass compartment. Have him insert a piece of plywood in the center where the glass was. Paint this to match your woodwork or use some brilliant color as a background for your lovely glass collection. The recess forms a perfect shelf on either side. Another idea, if you want ventilation, is to remove glass and hank a strip of bamboo shade—painted in a brilliant color to blend with your decor.
In a house I visited recently an uninteresting door under the stairway (which was visible from the entrance) was removed and shelves built for pretty china. Another door on the side of the stairway served just as effectively for an entrance to the coat closet.

About once a year I read the "Ru-baiyat of Omar Khayyam." It always reminds me of my friend, Thelma.
Just about as often I have a visit with her and I always leave her feeling I am intellectually refreshed. Believe it or not, she knows practically all of the "Rubaiyat" from memory. Often I have sat, relaxing in her sitting room in the shadow of the St. Louis Cathedral and listened to her soft clear voice repeating—"Ah, my beloved, fill the cup that clears to-day of past regrets and future fears."

"To-morrow!—Why to-morrow I may be myself with yesterday's seven thousand years" and then heard the hour strike which reminded me that I had a train to catch. Reluctantly I would take my departure and leave the gripping charm of the Vieux Carre behind me once more.

I never quite believed that a man with so Irish a name as Edward Fitzgerald wrote the "Rubaiyat."

Helen Means was such a charming visitor—as her numerous entertainments testified.

The editorials in The Eagle are honestly written, even if ignorantly composed; we trust the same is true of your reaction to them.

"The Child with the Savings Account Becomes the Thrifty Man"

A savings account is an ideal birthday gift for a boy or girl. It fosters a sense of independence. It provides an incentive for thrift. It enables the child to save for the things he wants—and thus learn, through a small measure of temporary sacrifice, the relative value of possessions and of goals.
